FOREWORD

This book has been compiled not as a history of the Chandler family, but as a geneological survey of a particular branch of that family and of some of the families which have come related to the Chandlers through marriage. It is therefore, not intended to be a historical account of movement and progress across our nation's frontiers, but a convenient reference, that each living member of that particular lineage may use in regard to his own family and others in which he may have reason to be interested.

A Geneology Particularly of The Chandler Family 1633-1953

Finally, it is hoped that these brief details may be a connecting link that will hold a little closer together, all of our families which tend otherwise to become widely separated by time and space.

FOREWORD

This book has been compiled not as a history of the Chandler family, but as a geneological survey of a particular branch of that family and of some of the families that have become related to the Chandlers through marriage and descendency. It is therefore, not intended to be an historical account of movement and progress across our nation's frontiers, but a convenient record of reference, that each living member of that particular lineage may use in regard to his own family and others in which he may have reason to be interested.

It is a record in which there may be some matter of pride because of relating back to the people of "Mayflower" fame, Plymouth Colony and the Revolutionary War, but that pride should not come higher than second place to the sense of appreciation we of this generation should have for the heritage that has come down to us through the pioneering spirit of those of the generations of the past.

Finally, it is hoped that these brief details may be a connecting link that will hold a little closer together, all of our families which tend otherwise to become widely separated by time and space.

1616531

Much of the information for the first seven generations was taken from "A Partial Geneology of The Chandler Family", author unknown.

Another source of reference was a write-up of the family of Horace Nye Chandler in a "History of Mercer and Henderson Counties, Ill." published by H. H. Hill & Co., Chicago, Ill. 1882.

Again, to those living members of this family who have been so kind in passing on the necessary information, I express my heart-felt appreciation.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A family record like this would not be possible if it were not for the cooperation of the many members of that family and the reference to their own family records.

I would like therefore to give special credit to the late Horace G. Chandler who had dreamed of such a book as this; to Mrs. Nellie Frances Porter Hood and to Mrs. Corinne Chandler Greer whose D.A.R. records have been a decided help; and to the following who have given information about their families:

Mrs. Harriet May Naughton
Mr. Guy Standish Chandler
Mr. George Glover Chandler
Mrs. Mary Chandler Jones
Mr. Paul Chandler
Mrs. Ruth Matson Willson
(all of the tenth generation) and to:
Mrs. Horace S. Lowrey
Mrs. Marion Moeller Hamilton
Mrs. Jane Chandler Gernak
Mrs. Margaret Louise Hoek
Mrs. Elsie May Lowrey Gerneman
Mrs. Nina Faye Bornholdt Brown
(all of the eleventh generation) and to:

many others who have been so kind as to pass on the needed names, dates and places to make this work just a little easier.

Much of the information for the first seven generations was taken from "A Partial Genealogy of The Chandler Family", author unknown.

Another source of reference was a write up of the family of Horace Nye Chandler in a "History of Mercer and Henderson Counties, Ill." published by H. H. Hill & Co., Chicago, Ill. 1882.

Again, to those living members of this family who have been so kind in passing on the necessary information, I express my heart-felt appreciation.

APOLOGIES

The names, dates and places in this geneological survey have not been proven in all cases by reference to official records, but have come from the memory of living members of the families concerned, from family record books, from grave markers and from other writings already in existence.

Every effort has been made to keep the record as complete as possible and to keep the dates and names as accurate as possible.

Nearly eighty letters had to be written and nearly that many were received, and in the process of copying old records and transmitting that information by correspondence it is quite possible that mistakes have crept into the completed form of this book.

However, if there are errors in the spelling of names or in the recording of dates and places it has been entirely unintentional.

If there are any omissions of names or of important facts it is because of the lack of contact with the persons concerned and it is hoped that those offended will forgive.

For any such mistakes, errors, or omissions the author's apologies are herewith extended and your forbearance requested.
